INVESTOR DIALOGUE

Article 3

- 3.1 The Company endorses the importance of dialogue and regular interaction between the Company and its investors (including shareholders). Investors who are shareholders are encouraged to attend and exercise their voting rights at General Meetings. The Board shall provide the General Meeting with information requested by the General Meeting, unless this would be inconsistent with an overriding interest of the Company. If the Board decides not to provide information requested by the General Meeting, they shall communicate the motivation for their decision to the General Meeting.

- 3.2 Circumstances may occur when Investor Dialogue taking place outside a General Meeting could be conducive to the interests of the Company and its business. The Company may initiate Investor Dialogue or engage in Investor Dialogue initiated or requested by one or more investors. Investors are expected to be constructive when engaging in Investor Dialogue.
- 3.3 If the Board believes that Investor Dialogue would not be in the best interests of the Company and its business on a specific occasion, the Company may:
- a. reject a request for Investor Dialogue;
 - b. terminate Investor Dialogue at any point in time; or
 - c. decide not to initiate Investor Dialogue.
- 3.4 In order to enable the Company to assess whether Investor Dialogue initiated or requested by one or more investors could be in, or inconsistent with, the Company's best interests, the Company may request each such investor to provide the Company in advance, and in writing, with all relevant information regarding the purpose of the Investor Dialogue so requested (including the topic(s) of such Investor Dialogue), such investor's views on the matters to be discussed during such Investor Dialogue, such investor's shareholding and other financial interests in the Company and such investor's long and short positions in respect of the Company (in each case including through derivative instruments).
- 3.5 To the extent possible and practicable, the Company shall be represented by at least one Director (or another individual designated by the Board) in any Investor Dialogue.
- 3.6 The Company may involve its Investor Relations department in any Investor Dialogue, as well as such other officers of the Company and/or advisors as the Company deems appropriate.
- 3.7 The Executive Director(s) shall regularly (and at least annually) inform and consult the Non-Executive Directors on the process and content of any relevant Investor Dialogue.
