Pharvaris Reports Third Quarter 2024 Financial Results and Highlights Recent Business Updates

- Positive long-term extension data highlighting the differentiated profile of deucricitibant for the prevention and treatment of HAE attacks presented at recent medical congresses
- Intend to engage in clinical development of deucricitibant for the treatment of acquired angioedema due to C1-INH deficiency (AAE-C1INH)
- Initiation of CHAPTER-3 global pivotal Phase 3 clinical study of deucricitibant for the prophylactic treatment of HAE using once-daily extended-release tablet expected by YE2024
- Operating from a strong financial position with cash and cash equivalents of €305 million as of September 30, 2024

ZUG, Switzerland, November 13, 2024 -- Pharvaris (Nasdaq: PHVS), a late-stage biopharmaceutical company developing novel, oral bradykinin B2 receptor antagonists to prevent and treat hereditary angioedema (HAE) attacks, today announced financial results for the third quarter ended September 30, 2024, and highlighted recent business updates.

“Enrollment in our pivotal Phase 3 on-demand study, RAPIDe-3, progresses as planned, and we are preparing for the initiation of our pivotal Phase 3 prophylaxis study, CHAPTER-3, by year-end,” said Berndt Modig, Chief Executive Officer of Pharvaris. “Our recently presented positive long-term extension data from our CHAPTER-1 and RAPIDe-2 Phase 2 studies reinforces deucricitibant’s differentiated profile and its potential to provide people living with HAE the tools to confidently control their condition. Together with the data from our randomized clinical trials, we believe deucricitibant’s injectable-like efficacy, placebo-like tolerability, and oral convenience uniquely position it to address unmet need in both the prophylactic and on-demand HAE treatment settings. Our team is now focused on the successful execution of our Phase 3 HAE clinical studies.”

Recent Highlights and Clinical Study Updates

Development Pipeline

- Anticipated initiation of CHAPTER-3 (NCT06669754) by YE2024. CHAPTER-3 is a randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled Phase 3 study of orally administered deucricitibant extended-release tablet for the prophylactic treatment of HAE attacks. The study aims to enroll approximately 81 adult and adolescent participants (12 years and older) with HAE and randomize them in a 2:1 ratio to receive deucricitibant extended-release tablet (40 mg/day) or placebo once daily for 24 weeks. The primary endpoint of the study is to evaluate the efficacy of deucricitibant compared to placebo for prophylaxis against angioedema attacks as measured by the time-normalized number of investigator-confirmed HAE attacks during the 24-week treatment period. Other objectives of the study include evaluating additional clinically relevant outcomes, deucricitibant's safety and tolerability, pharmacokinetics and its impact on health-related quality of life measures in the prophylactic setting.
 - Enrollment in RAPIDe-3 (NCT06343779) is progressing as planned. Advancement of RAPIDe-3, a global pivotal Phase 3 study of deucricitibant immediate-release capsule for the on-demand treatment of HAE attacks, is progressing as planned with a target enrollment of approximately 120 participants. The primary efficacy endpoint is time to onset of symptom relief, as measured by Patient Global Impression of Change (PGI-C) rating of at least "a little better" for two consecutive timepoints within 12 hours post-treatment. Other efficacy endpoints include time to End of Progression (EoP) in attack symptoms, substantial symptom relief, complete attack resolution and proportion of attacks achieving symptom resolution with one dose of deucricitibant as measured by Patient Global Impression of Severity (PGI-S) and by Angioedema Symptom Rating Scale (AMRA).
 - Presentations at Bradykinin Symposium 2024, HAEi Global Angioedema Forum, and American College of Allergy, Asthma, & Immunology (ACAAI) Annual Meeting highlighted positive long-term extension data for deucricitibant for both prophylactic and on-demand treatment. Extension data confirm the observed safety and tolerability profile from Phase 2 randomized studies and further support the potential for deucricitibant to become a preferred therapy for the management of HAE. Long-term prophylaxis extension data of deucricitibant (CHAPTER-1 OLE) show attack reduction is maintained for over one year with open-label extension participants experienced a 93% reduction in attacks compared to baseline. Long-term on-demand extension data of deucricitibant immediate-release capsule (RAPIDe-2 OLE) show median onset of symptom relief in ~1.1 hours, with 85.8% of attacks resolving completely within 24 hours. The full posters and presentation slides are available on the Investors section of the Pharvaris website at <https://ir.pharvaris.com/news-events/publications>.

- Announced plans to expand clinical development of deucricitibant into acquired angioedema due to C1-INH deficiency (AAE-C1INH) following publication of compelling data from an investigator-initiated trial. Data in the July 2024 publication of the Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology explored the potential for deucricitibant to address the unmet medical need for effective and well-tolerated therapies for the prophylactic and on-demand treatment of AAE-C1INH. Currently, there are no approved therapies to address AAE-C1INH. A randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study was conducted by Investigators at the Amsterdam University Medical Center (Amsterdam UMC). Three persons living with AAE-C1INH were enrolled; the individual mean monthly attack rates were 2.0, 0.6, and 1.0 during the placebo period and 0.0 across all participants during treatment with deucricitibant. There were no severe adverse events and one self-limiting treatment-emergent adverse event (abdominal pain).

About Deucricitibant

Deucricitibant is a novel, potent, oral small-molecule bradykinin B2 receptor antagonist currently in clinical development. By inhibiting bradykinin signaling through the bradykinin B2 receptor, deucricitibant has the potential to prevent the occurrence of HAE attacks and to treat the manifestations of an attack if/when they occur. Based on its chemical properties, Pharvaris is developing two formulations of deucricitibant for oral administration: an extended-release tablet to enable sustained absorption and efficacy in prophylactic treatment, and an immediate-release capsule to enable rapid onset of activity for on-demand treatment.

About Pharvaris

Pharvaris is a late-stage biopharmaceutical company developing novel, oral bradykinin B2 receptor antagonists to prevent and treat HAE attacks. By directly pursuing this clinically proven therapeutic target with novel small molecules, the Pharvaris team aspires to offer people with all types of HAE effective, well-tolerated, and easy-to-administer alternatives to treat attacks, both prophylactically and on-demand. With positive data in both Phase 2 prophylaxis and on-demand studies in HAE, Pharvaris is encouraged to further develop deucricitibant. Pharvaris is currently enrolling a pivotal Phase 3 study for the on-demand treatment of HAE attacks and plans to initiate a pivotal Phase 3 study of deucricitibant for the prevention of HAE by year-end 2024. Overview Pharvaris is a late-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the development and commercialization of innovative therapies for rare diseases with significant unmet need, initially focused on bradykinin-mediated angioedema and other bradykinin-mediated diseases. Our first molecule, deucricitabant (PHA121, PHA-022121), is a novel, small-molecule bradykinin B2 receptor antagonist for the treatment of hereditary angioedema ("HAE") attacks. Bradykinin B2 receptor inhibition is a clinically validated mechanism for the treatment of HAE, as demonstrated by icatibant, which is a bradykinin B2 receptor antagonist approved in Europe in 2008 and in the United States in 2011 (branded as FIRAZYR). Deucricitabant demonstrated over 4000-fold selectivity for the bradykinin B2 receptor when compared to approximately 170 other molecular targets, including the bradykinin B1 receptor.

Currently approved HAE therapies are limited by burdensome routes of administration (injection or infusion), variable efficacy, or side effects. We believe deucricitabant has the potential to provide an efficacious, well-tolerated, and easy-to-administer option for both prophylactic and on-demand treatments of HAE attacks in the form of (i) an extended-release tablet, to provide protection from attacks in a single daily dose, and (ii) an immediate-release capsule, to enable rapid achievement of therapeutic exposure. We believe deucricitabant may address a broader range of bradykinin-mediated angioedema types than plasma kallikrein inhibitors. This expectation is based on our understanding that deucricitabant, as a bradykinin B2 receptor antagonist, will block all pathways that involve bradykinin-mediated activation of the bradykinin B2 receptor, and subsequent bradykinin-mediated angioedema. In contrast, plasma kallikrein inhibitors only target plasma kallikrein-mediated bradykinin generation. Therefore, by blocking the action of bradykinin at the bradykinin B2 receptor, we have the potential to prevent its aberrant signaling regardless of the pathway that generates bradykinin.

In our completed Phase 1 trials to date, we have observed that deucricitabant was orally bioavailable and well-tolerated at all doses studied, with approximately dose-proportional exposure. We also have successfully demonstrated proof-of-concept through a clinical pharmacodynamics ("PD") assessment with the bradykinin challenge, which had been utilized as a validated surrogate assessment for dose selection in the icatibant development program.

We plan to efficiently progress deucricitabant through clinical development for prophylactic and on-demand use with our prophylactic extended-release product candidate and on-demand immediate-release product candidate, respectively.

We have demonstrated clinical efficacy and tolerability in a Phase 2 study (RAPIDe-1) treating attacks of HAE. The data allowed us to compare the projected therapeutic performance of deucricitabant with that of icatibant. However, we have not conducted a head-to-head comparison of icatibant to deucricitabant in a clinical study. We commenced our RAPIDe-1 Phase 2 clinical trial of deucricitabant in February 2021 and reported topline Phase 2 data for the on-demand treatment of attacks in people with HAE in December 2022. In March, 2024, we initiated a pivotal Phase 3 clinical study of deucricitabant immediate-release capsules (20 mg) and placebo to evaluate the efficacy and safety of deucricitabant in the on-demand treatment of HAE attacks for people (12 years and older) living with HAE.

We have also demonstrated clinical efficacy and tolerability in a Phase 2 study (CHAPTER-1) for prophylactic treatment of HAE attacks. We commenced this CHAPTER-1 Phase 2 clinical trial in 2021 using twice-daily dosing of the deucricitbant immediate-release capsules as a proof-of-concept and announced positive topline data in December 2023. Our primary objective with this trial was to assess the efficacy and safety profile of deucricitbant for prophylactic treatment in people living with HAE. In the CHAPTER-1 Phase 2 study, deucricitbant was well-tolerated and significantly reduced the monthly attack rate, the occurrence of moderate and severe attacks and the number of attacks treated with on-demand medications. In February 2022, we reported Phase 1 clinical data of deucricitbant demonstrating pharmacokinetics of the extended-release formulation and in healthy volunteers, showing a single dose of deucricitbant was well tolerated with an extended-release profile supporting once-daily dosing.

Recently, we sought feedback and reached alignment on key elements of a proposed Phase 3 pivotal prophylactic study (the "Phase 3 Clinical Program") of deucricitbant during End-of-Phase 2 meetings with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the European Union Committee for Medicinal Products for Human Use (CHMP), and the Japanese Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Agency (PMDA). CHAPTER-3 is a randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled Phase 3 study of orally administered deucricitbant extended-release tablets for the prophylactic treatment of HAE. The study aims to enroll 81 adult and adolescent participants (over 12 years old) with HAE and randomize them in a 2:1 ratio to receive deucricitbant (40 mg/day) or placebo daily for 24 weeks. The primary endpoint of the study is to evaluate the efficacy of deucricitbant compared to placebo for prophylaxis against angioedema attacks as measured by the time-normalized number of investigator-confirmed HAE attacks during the 24-week treatment period. Other objectives of the study include evaluating the safety and tolerability, the pharmacokinetics, and the impact on health-related quality of life of deucricitbant in a prophylactic setting. In addition, we also plan to run an open-label extension study in the prophylactic setting with both rollover and non-rollover subjects to collect long-term safety data.

A wide variety of events beyond our control, including natural or man-made disasters, power shortages, fires, extreme weather conditions, pandemics, epidemics or outbreaks of infectious diseases, political instability or other events could disrupt our business or operations or those of our development partners, manufacturers, regulators or other third parties with whom we conduct business now or in the future. These events may cause businesses and government agencies to be shut down, supply chains to be interrupted, slowed, or rendered inoperable, and individuals to become ill, quarantined, or otherwise unable to work and/or travel due to health reasons or governmental restrictions.

In addition, unforeseen global events, such as the armed conflict between Russia and Ukraine and the Hamas attack against Israel and the ensuing war, could adversely impact our business and operations. The invasion of Ukraine and the Hamas attack against Israel and the retaliatory measures that have been taken, or could be taken in the future, by the United States, the NATO alliance, and other countries have created global security concerns that could result in regional conflicts and also adversely affect our ability to conduct ongoing and future clinical trials of our product candidates. For example, our studies include a significant number of patients in Germany, Poland and Bulgaria, and one patient in Israel. A further escalation of the conflict in Ukraine and the Middle-East may potentially impact our ability to complete our ongoing and planned clinical trials in these countries on a timely basis, or at all. Clinical trials in these countries could be suspended or terminated, and we may be prevented from obtaining data on patients already enrolled at affected sites. Our ability to conduct clinical trials in these regions may also become restricted under applicable sanctions laws, which may require us to identify alternative trial sites. Any of the foregoing could impede the execution of our clinical development plans, which could materially harm our business.

In August 2022, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") placed a hold on the clinical trials of deucricitbant in the U.S. based on its review of nonclinical data. The FDA requested that we conduct an additional long-term rodent toxicology study and update the Investigator's Brochure. We participated in a Type A meeting with the FDA to discuss paths to address the on-demand and prophylactic holds and aligned on a protocol for a 26-week rodent toxicology study. Following review of data from a preplanned interim analysis of the ongoing 26-week nonclinical rodent study, the FDA lifted the clinical hold on the IND application for deucricitbant for the on-demand treatment of HAE in June 2023. In January 2024, the FDA lifted the clinical hold on the IND application for deucricitbant for the prophylactic treatment of HAE attacks following review of the full data set from the completed 26-week rodent toxicology study.

Additional trials may be required by the FDA, EMA or other regulators even with positive data from RAPIDe-1 and CHAPTER-1.

Financial Operations Overview

Revenues

We did not record any revenues during the period covered by the historical financial information included in this Report. We do not expect to recognize any revenues before we are able to commercialize our first product.

Research and development expenses

We are focused on the clinical development of deucricitibant. Since our inception, we have devoted substantially all of our resources to research and development efforts relating to the development of deucricitibant and our product candidates deucricitibant extended-release tablets and deucricitibant immediate-release capsules. We expect that we will continue to incur significant research and development expenses as we seek to complete the clinical development of, and achieve regulatory approval for, our product candidates, and in connection with discovery and development of any additional product candidates.

Research and development expenses consist of the following:

- employee benefits expenses, which includes salaries, pensions, share-based compensation expenses, bonus plans and other related costs for research and development staff;
- nonclinical expenses, which include costs of conducting and managing our outsourced discovery and nonclinical development studies;
- clinical expenses, which includes costs of conducting and managing our sponsored clinical trials, including clinical investigator cost, costs of clinical sites, and costs for Contract Research Organizations ("CROs") assisting with our clinical development programs;
- manufacturing expenses, which include costs related to manufacturing of active pharmaceutical ingredients and manufacturing of the products used in our clinical trials and research and development activities;
- costs related to regulatory activities, including collecting data, preparing and submitting filings, communicating with regulatory authorities and reviewing the design and conduct of clinical trials for compliance with applicable requirements;
- costs in connection with investigator-sponsored clinical trials, evaluations and collaborative studies;
- advisers' fees, including discovery, nonclinical, clinical, chemistry, manufacturing, and controls-related and other consulting services;
- intellectual property costs, which includes costs associated with obtaining and maintaining patents and other intellectual property; and
- license costs.

We expect that our total research and development expenses will continue to increase in 2024 as we continue to focus on the development of our deucricitibant product candidates, as well as explore potential expansion programs.

There is a risk that any clinical development or product discovery program may not result in commercial approval. To the extent that we fail to obtain approval to commercialize our product candidate in a timely manner, we would need to continue to conduct nonclinical studies or clinical trials over a longer period of time, and we anticipate that our research and development expenses may further increase.

Clinical development timelines and associated costs may vary significantly and the successful development of our product candidate is highly uncertain. At this time, we cannot reasonably estimate the nature, timing and estimated costs of the efforts, including patient recruitment and selection that will be necessary to complete the development of, or the period, if any, in which material net cash inflows may commence from, our product candidates.

Moreover, we cannot assure that we will be able to successfully develop or commercialize our product candidates, if approved for marketing. This is due to numerous risks and uncertainties associated with developing drugs. See "Item 3. Key Information—D. Risk factors" in our Annual Report and under "Risk factors" in any other periodic filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission for a discussion of these risks and uncertainties.

Selling and distribution expenses

Historically, we have not incurred any selling and distribution expenses. If our product candidates are approved for registration and marketing, we anticipate incurring substantial selling and distribution expenses in future periods in order to establish an infrastructure for marketing and distribution. In addition, we anticipate incurring substantial expenses for the manufacturing of commercial quantities of active pharmaceutical ingredients and drug products.

General and administrative expenses

We anticipate that we will continue to incur significant general and administrative expenses as we advance our research and development portfolio. General and administrative expenses consist of the following:

- employee benefits, including salaries, pensions, share-based compensation expenses, bonus plans and other related costs for staff and independent contractors in executive and operational functions;
- independent auditors' and advisers' fees, including accounting, tax, legal and other consulting services;
- rental expenses, insurance, facilities and IT expenses and other general expenses relating to our operations; and
- expenses related to the build-out of our commercial organization, including assessments of the HAE market landscape, pricing research and congress attendance.

We anticipate that the continuing development of our business and the expense of maintaining directors' and officer's liability insurance, will contribute to future increase in general and administrative expenses. We also expect that general and administrative expenses will increase in the future as we continue to incur additional costs associated with being a public company in the United States.

Share-based compensation expenses

In 2016, we implemented an Equity Incentive Plan ("the Plan"), in order to advance the interests of our shareholders by enhancing our ability to attract, retain and motivate persons who are expected to make important contributions to us and by providing such persons with performance-based incentives that are intended to better align the interests of such persons with those of our shareholders. In order to incentivize our directors and employees, our Board adopted the Pharvaris N.V. 2021 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2021 Plan") for employees, consultants and directors prior to the completion of our initial public offering ("IPO"). The 2021 Plan became effective upon our conversion from Pharvaris B.V. into Pharvaris N.V., which occurred prior to the consummation of our IPO. The 2021 Plan provides for the grant of options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, RSUs, performance stock awards, other stock-based awards, performance cash awards and substitute awards. The fair values of these instruments are recognized as personnel expenses in either research and development expenses or general and administrative expenses.

Result of operations

Research and development expenses increased from €18.5 million for the three months ended September 30, 2023 to €25.8 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024. The increase in the research and development expenses is primarily due to increased clinical expenses and increased personnel related costs, which is offset by a decrease in nonclinical expenses.

For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, clinical expenses were €15.4 million and €8.9 million, respectively. The increase in clinical expenses is primarily due to higher expenses on the prophylaxis and on-demand Phase 3 Clinical Program.

For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, personnel expenses were €7.4 million and €4.8 million, respectively. The increase is primarily due to the increased headcount to support the increased clinical and regulatory activities and yearly merit pay adjustments. Personnel expenses in this period in 2024 also included an amount of €2.3 million of share-based compensation versus €1.4 million in the prior-year period.

For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, nonclinical expenses were €0.3 million and €2.3 million, respectively. The decrease is primarily due to exploratory work and studies to lift the clinical hold.

| Total general and administrative expenses | (12,119,623) | (7,665,484) | (4,454,139) | 58 % |

General and administrative expenses increased from €7.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2023 to €12.1 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024. The increase in general and administrative expenses was primarily due to increased personnel expenses and an increase in other expenses.

For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, personnel expenses were €5.3 million and €3.5 million, respectively. The increase is primarily due to an increase in share-based compensation expense from €1.5 million in the prior-year quarter to €2.8 million in the current-year quarter. The share-based compensation expense increase is the result of additional hiring during the current quarter and a grant to an existing member of key management.

For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, other expenses were €1.4 million and €0.5 million respectively. The increase is primarily due to increased commercial and market access outside activities related to product launch preparation.

Finance income - net / (expense)

Finance expense for the three months ended September 30, 2024 was €3.6 million, compared to finance income of €2.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2023. The amounts primarily relate to unrealized foreign exchange losses of €5.5 million offset by interest income of €2.0 million for 2024, compared to unrealized foreign exchange income of €2.7 million and interest income of €0.1 million for 2023. The unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses primarily result from translating the Company's bank balances held in USD to EUR, which is the functional currency of the Company.

Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for in accordance with IAS 34. The interim period is considered part of a larger financial year, where the income tax is recognized in each interim period based on the best estimate of the weighted average annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year. The estimated tax expenses are determined based on a full-year basis and subsequently allocated using the expected full-year effective tax rate. The one-off items are recognized in full in the interim period in which they emerge. In the total interim tax charge, no distinction is made between current and deferred tax expenses/income.

The tax expense over the three months ended September 30, 2024 relates to the Company's U.S. and Dutch fiscal unity.

General and administrative expenses increased from €22.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2023, to €33.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024. For the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, personnel expenses were €13.0 million and €10.3 million, respectively. The increase is primarily due to an increase in share-based compensation expense from €4.3 million in the prior-year quarter to €6.2 million in the current-year quarter. The unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses primarily result from translating the Company's bank balances held in USD to EUR, which is the functional currency of the Company.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Since inception, we have incurred significant operating losses. For the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, we incurred losses of €99.5 million and €68.1 million, respectively. Since inception, we have not generated any revenues or net cash flows from sales. We will not receive any revenues or net cash flows from sales until we successfully develop a product candidate, obtain regulatory approval and successfully commercialize it. There is no assurance that we will be able to do so.

On September 30, 2024, the Company's authorized share capital amounted to €14.1 million divided into 117,500,000 ordinary shares each with a nominal value of twelve eurocents (€0.12).

As of September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the total number of issued and fully paid shares was 54,233,105 and 52,290,212, respectively. As of September 30, 2024 the issued share capital totaled €6.5 million (September 30, 2023: €4.9 million). On December 31, 2023, the issued share capital totaled €6.3 million.

In March 2022, the Company filed a Form F-3 Registration Statement and prospectus with the Securities and Exchange Commission, allowing the Company to sell up to $350 million of its securities. This Registration Statement was supplemented by a prospectus supplement covering an at-the-market program providing for the sales from time to time of up to $75 million of its ordinary shares pursuant to a Sales Agreement with Leerink Partners.

To date, we have relied solely on the issuance of equity securities to finance our operations and internal growth. On March 1, 2022, we entered into a sales agreement (the "2022 Sales Agreement") with Leerink Partners (formerly known as SVB Securities LLC), pursuant to which we may sell ordinary shares having an aggregate offering price of up to $75 million from time to time through Leerink Partners. On April 12, 2024, we terminated the 2022 Sales Agreement and entered into a new sales agreement with Leerink Partners, pursuant to which we may sell ordinary shares having an aggregate offering price of up to $175 million from time to time through Leerink Partners (the "2024 Sales Agreement"). In April 2024, we filed a Form F-3 ASR Registration Statement (the "F-3 ASR") and prospectus with the Securities and Exchange Commission, allowing us to sell an unspecified amount of its securities. The F-3 ASR was supplemented by a prospectus supplement covering an at-the-market program providing for the sales from time to time of up to $175 million of its ordinary shares pursuant to the April 2024 Sales Agreement. As of September 30, 2024, the Company has not sold any securities under the April 2024 Sales Agreement.

As of September 30, 2024, we have sold a total of 593,927 ordinary shares under the 2022 Sales Agreement and the April 2024 Sales Agreement generating total net proceeds of $9.8 million (€9.3 million), after deducting $0.3 million (€0.3 million), which was payable to Leerink Partners as commission in respect of such sales.

In June 2023, we sold a total of 6,951,340 ordinary shares, par value €0.12 per share, in a private placement at a purchase price of $10.07 per ordinary share. The sale generated total proceeds of approximately $70 million (€64.2 million).

During December 2023, we entered into an underwriting agreement with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC and Leerink Partners as underwriters, pursuant to which we agreed to issue and sell (i) 11,125,000 ordinary shares, par value €0.12 per share and (ii) pre-funded warrants to purchase up to 1,375,000 ordinary shares in an underwritten offering. The offering closed on December 8, 2023, and we generated net proceeds of $282.0 million (€261.6 million), after deducting bank fees of $18.0 million (€16.7 million). The pre-funded warrants were exercised in January 2024 for gross exercise proceeds of $0.01 million and resulted issuance of 1,375,000 ordinary shares.

In March 2024, the Company received a partial reimbursement for certain of its expenses in connection with the December 2023 offering which have been accounted for in the share premium.

As of September 30, 2024 we held cash and cash equivalents of €305.2 million. Of the cash on hand, €0.07 million relates to guarantees. We do not expect positive operating cash flows in the foreseeable future and remain dependent on additional financing to fund our research and development expenses, general and administrative expenses and financing costs. We believe that the available cash balances are sufficient to execute our operating plan and strategies and to meet the anticipated working capital requirements and settle all expected liabilities for at least twelve months from the issuance date of the consolidated statements of loss and comprehensive loss. Accordingly, the consolidated statements of loss and comprehensive loss have been prepared on a going concern basis.

Our future viability is dependent on our ability to raise additional capital to finance operations. We will need to finance our operations through public or private securities offerings, debt financings or other sources, which may include licensing, collaborations or other strategic transactions or arrangements. Although we have been successful in raising capital in the past, there is no assurance that we will be successful in obtaining such additional financing on terms acceptable to us, if at all. If we are unable to obtain funding, we could be forced to delay, reduce, or eliminate some or all of our research and development programs for product candidates, product portfolio expansion or commercialization efforts, which could adversely affect our business prospects, or we may be unable to continue operations.

Our contractual obligations and commitments as of September 30, 2024 amounted to €85.5 million, primarily related to research and development contracts.

These unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements do not include all the information required for a complete set of financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB.

However, selected explanatory notes are included to explain events and transactions that are significant to an understanding of the changes in the Group's financial position and performance since the last annual financial statements.

Unless otherwise stated, the unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements are presented in euros and all values are rounded to the nearest EUR (€), except per share amounts.

New standards and interpretations issued not yet effective

In April 2024, the IASB issued IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements ("IFRS 18") which replaces IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. IFRS 18 requires an entity to classify all income and expenses within its statement of profit or loss into one of five categories: operating; investing; financing; income taxes; and discontinued operations. The first three categories are new. These categories are complemented by the requirement to present subtotals and totals for "operating profit or loss", "profit or loss before financing income and taxes" and "profit or loss". IFRS 18, and the amendments to the other standards, is effective for reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, but earlier application is permitted. The Group is currently evaluating the impact of this amendment.

There are no other IFRS or IFRIC interpretations that are not yet effective and that are expected to have a material impact to the interim consolidated financial statements.

Income taxes are accounted for in line with IAS 34. The interim period is considered part of a larger financial year, where the income tax is recognized in each interim period based on the best estimate of the weighted average annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year. The estimated tax expenses are determined based on a full-year basis (P&L) and subsequently allocated using the expected full year effective tax rate. The discrete items are recognized in full in the interim period in which they emerge. In the total interim tax charge, no distinction is made between current and deferred tax expenses/ income.

Income tax expense is recognized based on management's estimate of the weighted average effective annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year, bearing in mind the impact of non-discrete and discrete items. Non discrete items in the income tax expense are recognized based on management's estimate of the weighted average effective annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year. Discrete items in the income tax expense are recognized at the applicable statutory tax rate.

The (estimated) average annual tax rate used for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 was (0.6%), compared to (0.5%) for the nine months ended September 30, 2023.

The current period losses for which no deferred tax asset has been recognized mainly consists of the unrecognized tax effect of losses incurred in Switzerland. The differences in the overseas tax rates are due to the lower tax rate in Switzerland compared to the statutory income tax rate in the Netherlands.

Pharvaris N.V. is the head of the fiscal unity including Pharvaris Netherlands B.V. and Pharvaris Holdings B.V.

Deferred tax

Deferred taxes have been recognized to the extent that management concludes that there is sufficient probability as per IAS 12 that there will be future taxable profits available in the foreseeable future against which the unused tax losses and deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets relating to losses carried forward have not been recognized, and deferred tax assets on deductible temporary differences in excess of deferred tax liabilities on taxable temporary differences have not been recognized in the consolidated statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income for the Dutch fiscal unity.
